If a new user, in the navigation bar, click "Sign Up" to head to the Registration page. <https://sherwood-wealth-services.herokuapp.com/signup>

Once logged in as an actual user or demo user, you should end up on the dashboard page, which houses the graph of most recent stock activity, a news feed, the stocks you currently hold, and a watchlist of stocks if applicable to user. <https://sherwood-wealth-services.herokuapp.com/dashboard>

If interested in more articles related to the stock market, there is a page dedicated to the News feed at <https://sherwood-wealth-services.herokuapp.com/news>. This page displays popular lists of stocks that are currently trending for one reason or another.

To search for specific stocks, simply start typing characters into the search bar. After a minimum of two characters have been entered, companies that you are potentially searching for will begin to popup. To go directly to the search page, simply head to the following link: <https://sherwood-wealth-services.herokuapp.com/search>
